Applicants shall remain entitled to release the film for non-commercial purposes, even after submitting the film. Applicants shall grant CAMPUS99 GmbH the sole right, unlimited in terms of time, place and media context, to show the film and/or film content (hereinafter: the film) to the public with commercial intention and/or to make it accessible to the public. Applicants shall agree explicitly to the following: the film's presentation in TV broadcasts, on websites (nationally and abroad), the excerpted or complete release of the film and/or film stills in a documentary catalogue and online, including public accessibility via full-text search, databases and the use of parts of the film for PR work performed by CAMPUS99 GmbH. Applicants agree that CAMPUS99 GmbH may grant further usage rights.

In the event that applicants' films fail to win any of the offered prizes, they shall be entitled to use their films for commercial purposes on the day following the first

In the event that applicants' films are awarded one of the offered prizes, they shall continue to refrain from licensing the film to third parties for commercial use or from using it to further their commercial ends in any way. Applicants shall remain entitled to release the film for non-commercial purposes.

Applicants shall further declare that they are the owners of all rights to the film necessary for distribution and use (including the music used), and shall exempt CAMPUS99 GmbH from the obligation to pay damages, the costs of litigation, including the costs of an appropriate legal defence, in the event of a third-party claim.

The submitter accepts that only the German version of the conditions of participation is legally binding. Staff of organizers, sponsors and partners can't take part in the competition.
